ABOUT THE SERIES:

- The WHIZ KIDS are a group of children – and a dog – who explain scientific subjects in a simple and friendly way.
- Each book investigates a different scientific phenomenon using clear and concise language.
- The information is brought to life by child-friendly practical experiments which allow young readers to see science at work for themselves.
- The book helps young readers observe, explore and ask questions about the world around them.
- Beautiful full-colour illustrations draw young children into the books.
- Investigative skills are developed through the use of simple ‘how’, ‘what’ and ‘where’ questions.
- Each book in the series has a contents page, glossary and index which introduce the conventions of non-fiction texts.
